Preach in Unspoken Heard: New Artists

There are artists that come along that seem to tap into their wellspring of emotions connected to nature slightly better than others. Once The Single Drops, the new EP from singer/songwriter Luca Bash opens, you pick up right away that he's one of those artists who's beginning to show that talent. Bash hails from Rome, Italy and has been involved in many art forms but music has always captivated him most. He's been performing since 2003, and with 4 other EP's under his belt plus festival awards in his country, it was all set for him to release his latest work which is a compilation of past tracks carefully selected to go along with a new single. The EP is stirring, and every track is wrought with reflection as harmonious as a bird alighting on a tree branch. The new single, "Your Tomorrow" features Bash's intonations almost like prayer - an underlying effect of the tone of his music. 'Little Tale' is frothy like the bubbling layer found atop a fresh cafe latte. The Single Drops is a tranquil piece of music that seeks to underline what music is to be in people - a ribbon tying all of what matters within.
