After releasing four conceptual Eps in 2014 (Cyan, Magenta, Yellow, and Key Black) singer-songwriter Luca Bash unites the best of them in sort of a compilation EP. The Single Drops features a track from each of the EPs and a brand new song – “Your Tomorrow”.

Your Tomorrow - Luca Bash

Hailing from Rome, Italy Bash has a composition career spanning three decades. Most of his songs explore the nature of religion to the very nature of reality in stripped down to the bone acoustic folk.

Using only two guitars, Luca Bash, and his longtime collaborator Giova Pes have been able to conjure up charming and powerful soundscapes that inspire the listener. Filled with deep layers of meaning there is a lot to dissect with The Single Drops – a record that represents the pinnacle of years of artistic struggle.

More about Luca can be found on Facebook, Soundcloud and Twitter, as well as his official website <http://www.lucabash.com/> and YouTube channel.

PS: All of the songs of The Single Drops have their own videos on YouTube so don't miss that out. 😊
